Mr. Bert Spence

Mr. Bert Spence, aged 30 years, died Thursday of cancer at his home on the "Josh Owens" farm. She was a daughter of Greek Ingram and survived by her husband. She was buried Friday at Shroton's graveyard.

The heavy rain and wind storm last Thursday did great damage to plowed land, fences and tobacco crops. A great number of tobacco plants were reported ruined by the storm. A bridge on the Mt. Sterling road was washed out and delayed traffic for nearly a day.

T. S. Shroat is having the old brick building at the corner of Vinson and State avenue torn down and will erect a business house on the site in the near future. Next to the Owens House this is the oldest building in town and was erected in the early part of the nineteenth century.

Albert Bristow, who lives on the Wm. Wright farm near town, had a team of mules to run away Tuesday. The wagon tongue was broken in the run away and the broken end caught one of the mules in the side and splinters from the tongue were run into the mule's body. The mule died from loss of blood.

Wm. White

Wm. White died the past week at his home near Woodruff, Mo., after an illness of several months. He was past fifty years of age and had lived near Weston, Mo., about twelve years, having gone there from this county. He is survived by his wife who was Miss Mary Hollar and a small daughter.

Howard B. Goodpaster

Howard B. (Doc) Goodpaster, aged about 45 years, committed suicide at his home near Weston, Mo., the past week. He was a former resident of this county and is survived by his wife, three daughters and two sons, also by his mother and one brother who reside in this county.
